

// We are GEZOLAN

we //

At GEZOLAN, the we // shapes our daily actions. we // stands not only for dependability, willingness to help, team spirit, cooperation and respect, but also for openness, tolerance and fairness. we // see our-selves as GEZOLANians, who work in friendly cooperation as a team, with a sense of we //, in order to continue the successful path of our company. Side by side with our customers and partners, suppliers and stakeholders, do we // want to create something special. we // means for us to make the world a bit more colorful together, to make big things happen together, to be at eye level together, to appreciate achieved goals together, to reflect on the past together, to look ahead together and to create the future together. With respect, dignity and an open-door policy we // guarantee a positive work environment. The we // is exemplified every day by all employees up to the highest management level and is expressing our appreciation for each and every GEZOLANian.

// live

At GEZOLAN we // live for what we do. We // live with all our senses for quality and professionalism and go through life with open eyes, without prejudices and with an open world view. We do not think in terms of problems, but in terms of solutions. We are spurred to // live for continuous improvement of all our actions and for our values and attitudes. We // live to make things happen. To // live, for us, means to be alive. To // live means to get going and not just to talk. To // live is to make ideas come true and to reach defined goals. To // live means to do, achieve, fulfil, create and always improve. To // live means to develop per-sonality, to look ahead and to learn from the past. True to the motto // live and let // live we strive to min-imize the footprint of our actions. We // live and work the GEZOLAN way of life.

// quality

As a company with Swiss roots we know about the tremendous importance of // quality. Our own standard of // quality is therefore high and the driving force for our daily actions. // quality is firmly anchored in our and the DNA of our company. Every GEZOLANian feels personally committed to the // quality of his / her holistic actions and is aware of the importance of a high // quality in every condition of life. We constantly examine our actions on the basis of this awareness. For us, // quality starts with the selection of best raw materials, continues with a safe and technologically stable production process, and does not end with a high-quality end product. For us, // quality is also the service we deliver, the communication with our cus-tomers, promotion of a professional image of our company in all areas of life. Through the // quality of our actions, products and services, we continually prove that the trust placed in us is justified.
